1 Introduction

This publication is a compilation of control marks stamped on compressed, liquefied or dissolved gas cylinders worldwide advised to EIGA. The first version was published in 1990, as IGC Doc 36 and has undergone periodic updates. Whilst every attempt has been made to ensure completion and accuracy, EIGA takes no responsibility for errors or omissions.

There have been a number of changes including change of country names and geographical changes such as countries being divided.

2 Scope and purpose

The purpose of the publication is to list existing control marks, which are found on the shoulder of cylinders to help the gases industry easily identify the characteristics of the cylinder.

This publication includes stamp marks from the Notified Bodies associated with both Transportable Pressure Equipment Directives (TPED 1999/36/EC and 2010/35/EU) and a reference to the United States Department of Transportation (DOT) approved retesters.

This publication also contains unchanged the stamp marks from the original 1990 publication, as many existing cylinders still carry these stamp marks on their shoulders, see 4.1.

3 Existing stamp marks

Marks from the 1990 publication are shown in 4.1 to 4.4 and now includes updates. The following comments are important:

On each page heading, a sign in the form of a hammer flanked by two letters which indicate who is responsible to carry out and certify that the tests have been performed according to the National Regulations.

Stamps of companies or organisations which no longer carry out the periodic test on gas cylinders are included. However, since their stamps continue to appear on old cylinders still in use, it may be of use to be able to identify them.

The marks are reproduced according to their actual design based on the available information. The scale of the drawings is not shown except if dimensions are known.

Any errors or omissions should be reported to the EIGA Office.

3.1 TPED Stamp marks

A list of Notified and Approved Bodies for both Transportable Pressure Equipment Directives (TPED 1999/36/EC and TPED 2010/35/EU) with stamp marks, if available is covered in 4.5. The source for these tables is the information from the web page of the European Commission. For updates see:

http://ec.europa.eu/growth/tools-databases/nando/index.cfm?fuseaction=directive.notifiedbody&dir_id=141121

The table in 4.5 shows the four digits identification number, the name of the Inspection bodies, the European country of their notifying authority and the stamp mark.

3.2 United States of America Stamp marks
